His was a spirit that stooped from larger spheres
Into our province of ephemeral sight,
A colonist from immortality.
A pointing beam on earth’s uncertain roads,
His birth held up a symbol and a sign …

Savitri, Book 1, Canto 3, p 22
The body was in the habit of fulfilling its functions automatically, as something natural, which means that for it, the question of their importance or usefulness did not arise: it didn't have that mental, for instance, or vital vision of things, of what's "important" or "interesting" and what isn't. That didn't exist. But now that the cells are growing conscious, they seem to stand back (gesture): they look at themselves, they begin to watch themselves act, and they very much wonder, "What's the use of all this?" And then, an aspiration: "How, how should things truly be? What's our purpose, our usefulness, our basis? Yes, what should our basis and our 'standard' of life be?" To put it mentally again, we might say, "How will we be when we are divine? What will be the difference? What's the divine way of being?" And what speaks there is that whole kind of physical base entirely made up of thousands of small things absolutely indifferent in themselves, whose raison d'être lies only in their totality, like a support to another action, but which in themselves seem devoid of any meaning. And then, it's again the same thing: a sort of receptivity, of silent opening to let oneself be permeated, and a very subtle perception of a way of being that might be luminous, harmonious.

That way of being is still quite indefinable; but in this seeking there is a constant perception (which translates as a vision) of a multicolored light, with all the colors - all the colors not in layers but as though combined in dots, a combination of the two which is... difficult. It's only because of that great Faith, a perfectly still, luminous, harmonious, yet at the moment of transition there are a few seconds that are... the least we can say is "unexpected." Everything is as though made up of this. And it seems to be the true mode of being - I am not yet sure, but at any rate it's a far more conscious mode of being.

I see it all the time: with eyes open, eyes closed, all the time. It gives a strange perception (with regard to the body), a strange perception at the same time of subtlety, permeability (if I may call it that), of suppleness of form, and not exactly a removal but a considerable lessening of the rigidity of forms (the rigidity is removed, not the forms: a suppleness in the forms). As for the body, the first times it felt that in some part or the other, it felt... when it happens it's a bit lost, with the sense of something eluding it. But if one remains very quiet and waits quietly, it's simply replaced by a sort of plasticity and fluidity that seems to be a new mode of the cells.

It might probably be what, on the material level, must take the place of the physical ego; that is to say, it seems the rigidity of the form must give place to this new way of being. Of course, the first contact is always very... surprising. But the body is getting used to it little by little. What's a little difficult is the moment of transition from one way to the other. It's done very progressively, yet at the moment of transition there are a few seconds that are... the least we can say is "unexpected."

In that way, all habits are undone. It's the same with all the functioning: blood circulation, digestion, breathing - all the functions. And at the moment of transition it's not that one abruptly takes the place of the other, but there is a state of fluidity between the two which is... difficult. It's only because of that great Faith, a perfectly still, luminous, constant, immutable faith in the real existence of the supreme Lord - in the SOLE real existence of the Supreme - that everything goes on apparently as it is.

News & Notes # 831 – 15th August 2020
We were much younger when the momentous event of the Inauguration of Auroville took place. Those who were there were deeply marked by the event, some of us participated right from the start, and over the 52 years of its existence, so many of us have helped Auroville grow, supporting The Mother’s great vision of the City of Dawn with its inspiring goal of implanting of “the consciousness of the One”.

India, as the world’s great spiritual wisdom source and evolutionary laboratory is the birthplace of Sri Aurobindo, the home for his Ashram, and so naturally, the host for Auroville, founded as The Mother’s “next seeking”. This City of Dawn is meant to be “a collective experiment for the progress of humanity” - a “first step” for developing the “organised and harmonious diversity” for world evolution that Sri Aurobindo said was both needed and inevitable. Today, Auroville is internationally recognized as a showcase incarnating the multiple oneness of the Human Family, and as a site of dynamic efforts to support humanity’s deep urge for unity and peace.

“All that is needed is a little soil to let the plant grow” The Mother said - a material basis for anchoring this new creation in Matter. And so a land base on Earth for the Dream was designated by India. Consolidating this “Master Plan” area, around and protecting the Matrimandir, is an essential imperative for a solid, forceful whole. But today, Auroville’s physical base is still incomplete. As Acres for Auroville embarks on its 7th year on India’s landmark date of August 15th, we invite you to continue the effort with us, as we remember The Mother’s words for the flower she named “Success of Auroville”:

“Power of Success - The power of those who know how to continue their effort”

India’s 73rd Independence Day and Auroville

“The Soul of India is one and indivisible. India is conscious of her mission in the world. She is waiting for the exterior means of manifestation.” – The Mother, 6 June 1947 (CWTM. V.13, p.351)

The above words were written by the Mother two months before India’s Independence from British rule. Then, on Sri Aurobindo’s 75th birthday, on 15th August 1947 when India attained her long-sought Independence, Sri Aurobindo, at the request of All India Radio, wrote a message wherein he spoke of his five dreams, one of which was the spiritual gift of India to the world.

Some 21 years later in 1968, the founding of Auroville took place with the endorsement of UNESCO and numerous countries in the world thanks in part to the reach of Indian spirituality in the world – one of Sri Aurobindo’s five “dreams”. Writes Suryamayi Aswini in her doctoral thesis on Auroville: “The spirit and culture of the revolutionary era of ’68 was in part informed by the concurrent discovery of Indian spirituality, popularised by contemporary artists such as The Beatles, which offered tools for the individual emancipation that was seen as necessary to accompany and realise the transformation sought for society at large.”

In the quest for “tools” for individual emancipation and a transformed society, we believe Auroville brings the knowledge and vision from the two pioneers, Sri Aurobindo and the Mother, which far surpass the reason-born or the idealism-born knowledge and vision of founders of earlier utopian communities. The richness of experience with this depth and breadth of knowledge and vision make Auroville one of the most appropriate “exterior means of manifestation” for the soul of India. Anyone who studies the Mother’s vision of Auroville with impartiality will agree that Auroville’s vision, worldview, philosophy, approach to individual and collective life, and even the practical dimension of the town-plan, offer India an inspiration and roadmap to emerge into a future worthy of her great and divine soul.

Auroville has been welcomed and nourished in India and, in turn, Auroville nourishes the Indian renaissance. This truth needs to be better understood and strengthened so as to create “the exterior means of manifestation” for India’s soul which alone can ensure India’s glorious future, and the subsequent vastly beneficial impact on the world.

“Acres for Auroville” seeks to strengthen this truth by consolidating the planned Auroville area.

With trust in Auroville’s bright future,

Aryadeep

COVID 19 UPDATE

From the WC/CTF: We are communicating again to bring to your attention that there have been several large gatherings/functions/ceremonies/parties taking place despite the government’s lockdown restrictions. Many of these gatherings take place without our notice, or in non-Auroville facilities, but with attendance by a large number of Aurovilians. We do our best to communicate against having such gatherings, so we appeal to the community to inform us if they know of any like this happening in and around Auroville. Also, if you are invited to such events, we request you to be responsible for your and Auroville’s safety and NOT attend.

Additionally, Coronavirus cases in Pondicherry are very high, and the city is currently going through a community transmission phase, where there are no traces of the contraction point of the new cases. Having said this, and looking at the rise in the number of cases each day (about 200) we strongly advise against anyone going to Pondicherry. If it is absolutely unavoidable and it is for an essential service, then ensure that all safety precautions are followed, and once the essential work is done return you to Auroville without much movement within Pondicherry. We look forward to continued support and cooperation from the community!

Wishing you all to stay happy and healthy. - The Covid Task Force & the Working Committee

BUILDING APPLICATION

The following applications have been reviewed and approved by L’avenir d’Auroville and feedback is now invited from the larger community. The last date for your feedback is Saturday 29th August 2020. Application forms, drawings, area maps and costing details for this have been uploaded on the Intranet in the application announcement posting. Unity Pavilion - First floor, Utilities building. Final building NOC. Unity Pavilion had a site NOC (ref#2158 issued May 2017) and building NOC (ref # 2178 issued July 2017) to build a utilities building near to the pavilion structure. The ground floor was to have common toilets, storage & laundry facilities and the first floor was to have a caretaker unit. The total area for this ground plus one structure was 102sqm. The architect of the building is Piero and the works started on site as scheduled but Piero’s ill health had prevented him from completing the full set of construction drawings so the first floor was not completed. Detailed construction drawings are now complete and as there are no changes to the design for which the earlier NOC was granted, the project holders will be issued a fresh NOC to complete the construction. The caretaker unit on the first floor is 36sqm. Estimated cost of construction 16,16,640/-.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR CONTRACTORS WORKING IN CONSTRUCTION AND INFRASTRUCTURE

We would like to let you know that we have initiated an Empanelment process for contractors undertaking any construction and infrastructure works in Auroville.

WHY ARE WE DOING THIS?: The empanelment is being introduced to support Auroville’s vision of collective building of the city, and to be able to share across new technologies, innovations, knowledge etc. in the construction field. This is in hope of co-operation, collaboration and creating an environment of learning by fostering goodwill. The empanelment procedure is being initiated with the aim to:

- Aid Project Holders and Consultants with the easy identification of contractors suited for their projects.
- Keep contractors informed on upcoming projects in Auroville & relevant work standards, thus allowing for the upgrading of their professional skills and field knowledge.
- Upgrade and facilitate best practices to be followed in the construction sector of Auroville.

- Ensure free, fair and transparent processes in the construction & development field in Auroville.

We have undertaken this procedure based on various recommendations received.

WHAT ARE THE DETAILS?: This process is aimed more towards inclusion rather than selection/elimination. All contractors who apply shall be empaneled, unless there are any charges against them. Empanelment of a contractor does not imply allocation of projects by default.

Once empaneled, applicants will be notified by email. The list of empaneled contractors will be updated periodically. Those contractors who have been empaneled may update their credentials periodically with the Evaluation and Monitoring Cell (EMC) of TDC.

HOW TO APPLY FOR EMPANELMENT?: All Contractors interested in doing construction and infrastructure works in Auroville are invited to apply for empanelment. Contractors are advised and expected to empanel themselves to be able to execute Construction and Infrastructure works in Auroville. Please complete the editable pdf form below and send to us, for the process of empaneling yourself with TDC. The form also includes a summary of the Empanelment procedure. The editable pdf can be found on Auronet at https://auroville.org.in/article/80884. Simply click on the attachment in the post to download the form and kindly submit it by mailing to: emc-avenir@auroville.org.in

You can also mail us at this address if you have any queries.

Warmly,

Anyone for poop?

As you may be aware, your septic tanks or wastewater treatment systems need to be emptied regularly: 1 to 2 years between desludging has to be respected for the treatment system to function and prevent blockage. When Pour Tous Water empties our septic tanks, the sludge has to end up somewhere. Up until now, Auroville has had temporary solutions, including dumping sludge in trenches (dug and then covered) at Botanical Gardens, then Forecomers, and most recently, the forest of Fertile. We are grateful to these communities for having Auroville’s sludge dumped there. In November 2019, Fertile community members met with PTW and graciously extended their agreement for dumping in the area for six more months. This prompted L’avenir to initiate a project to build a permanent and safe sludge treatment plant for Auroville. It is in process, but it takes time. In the meantime, we need to find a new temporary place to deposit our sludge. L’avenir has discussed this topic with the Forest Group, but to date we have not found a temporary solution. L’avenir and PTW will meet to discuss various options and settle on a choice very soon. The criteria to prevent pollution risks and nuisances (odors) are clear, including the potential locations which fit these criteria and the ones which cannot be retained. If you or your community can assist in any way with helping to find solutions, please email: water-avenir@auroville.org.in

FAMC meeting with the GST Commissioner, Chennai

The FAMC met the GST Commissioner, Chennai and had a very informative and friendly exchange with him. The meeting concentrated on exploring solutions for obtaining an accredited exemption from a) the charging of GST by Auroville registered units to Aurovilians and b) by Auroville units between themselves. Auroville may be able to apply for an exemption for the first point and we will be pursuing the feasibility of this with him in the next few weeks.

On the second point, the Commissioner noted that if Auroville seeks exemption from paying GST internally between units, the way to achieve this is to further consolidate the sharing of GSTINs. He suggested that Auroville should ultimately strive for 1 GSTIN per state, and that we should now aim to reduce our GSTINs from the current 45 in Tamil Nadu to less than 10, and the 9 GSTINs in Pondicherry to 1. Such a consolidation can be done without any changes to our current Trust structure; Trusts can share GSTINs if they so desire. This will reduce the GST that the conjoined trusts would otherwise collect from each other.

The Commissioner stressed the need for us to go forward with the Collective Accounting System, which the FAMC is presently working on, in order to manage such a shift. The advantages of such a system could be significant. It could also allow Trusts to maintain all of their accounts in one system rather than spread across many computers and files, which later need to be consolidated. Backup and security could be handled by our own internal service, such as Bluelight.

A collective accounting system also has the potential to streamline invoice management, simplify balance sheet submission, consolidate Auroville accounts, provide up to date GST reports, calculate contributions, and improve asset management across all of the users of the system. Executors, if they would choose to use this system, would have full access to see their unit accounts; Trustees would have full access to see all of the unit accounts in their Trust; and accountants would have access to all of the units that they serve. As this system would be cloud based, those with access could see their accounts from any computer with internet access.

We will continue to dialogue with the GST Commissioner to achieve greater clarity and hope to report progress in the coming weeks.

Sincerely, FAMC

A note from the FAMC

Dear fellow Aurovilians,

Our community is undergoing severe economic pressures: income tax demands for over 20 crores and the severe financial impact on our economy as a result of the Covid 19 crisis are some of the major challenges we have to face. How we deal with these pressures, and how we can best structure Auroville’s economy to meet the future pressures it will undoubtedly face, are subjects of intense interest. The FAMC welcomes this interest. We value the contributions from all in the Community on how best to deal with the challenges it faces. The strength of views expressed is indicative of the deep love Aurovilians have for Auroville. It is in that spirit that we, as members of the FAMC - and as fellow Aurovilians - wish to make clear that we do not find the language of ‘conflict’ helpful. We may, as a community, have disagreements, but the FAMC members emphatically do not regard themselves as being in “conflict” with any of the community it seeks to serve. We strive to do our best for all of the diverse participants in our economy. To the best of our ability, we do this with the intent to achieve Auroville’s dream, without favour, and without losing sight of our duty to look at Auroville’s economy holistically. We, as always, remain grateful for the trust the Community places in the FAMC. Yours, in solidarity - FAMC

Giorgio Molinari

Our dear friend and brother, Italian Giorgio Molinari, peacefully left his body at 3.10pm in the afternoon of Monday 10 August at the age of 83 in his Ark Studio apartment, succumbing to the heart problems that have been plaguing him for years.

Born in Milano, Giorgio was involved in photography from early age onwards while also developing interest in oriental philosophy. As a young man during the military service he functioned as ground assistant for aerial photography, after which he wholeheartedly entered the world of advertisement agencies, freelancing for record companies, theatre productions, architectural designs, often working with big names in the field. In 1980 he made an architectural photo study of Chandigarh, from where he visited Auroville, Matrimandir and the first true contact was made.

Then came the ‘Auroville 35 years’ festivity in UNESCO’s Paris centre in 2003, during which he learned more about Auroville and met several Aurovilians. His decision was made. Even though he was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage and right-side paralysis during the very preparations to come here, he managed to fly in October 2004 to Auroville where he could convalesce in Ark Studio. In December 2006 he became Aurovillian.

From the very onset, Giorgio was generously involved in the upgrading of Ark’s infrastructure and lived there as well. From there he did extensive photo studies of Savitri Bhavan, Matrimandir, and we saw him time and again during our meetings, at special events, in schools and at village occasions, cautiously but persistently negotiating the spaces and making photos wherever he could, always freely giving them to Auroville. He would merrily make marriage photos of friends in the village, providing them with CDs of the footage, and the Eluciole Circus would not be the same without him. In his studio, Giorgio trained various students, and endeavored to make AVians familiar with his Chronotype® technique.

Several years ago, Giorgio’s beloved sister Grazziella, who often came over from Italy and stayed with him in Ark, passed away, and since then Giorgio wasn’t the same anymore. His health withered, and so did his humour and zest of life. He recently offered all his material and equipment to Auroville to constitute ‘Studio Giorgio’, currently temporarily housed in Citadines. The collection will now move to his Ark Studio from where ‘Studio Giorgio’ can operate under guidance of his closest collaborator, Piero Cefaloni.

Thank you for having been with us, dear Giorgio, we will remember you through your many exquisite photos and touching images, and for your warm-hearted generosity and endearingly grinning smile. OM-

YouthLink Update
Hope you are all coping well in these strange times. YouthLink too has been going through a lot of changes. We have closed the office temporarily as it is a public space and no gatherings are allowed. Our team has also significantly reduced in number, as many international members have left.

We are currently in transition to a new management. We have 1 prospective candidate being trained to become “Executive” but we are looking for 1 more. We hope to be an example of regular succession, hopefully every 5-years.
We would like to seek your help to find a new office space (anything small and simple will do), and any recommendations for new management members.

As a small reminder for those who are confused about what YouthLink is: We are a Service Unit under ABS, and an educational activity under LEADS. Our main focus since 2015 has been to support one another (as young adults) to integrate into Auroville. This means we are a platform to incubate a variety of ‘life projects’, and we reach out to a wide mentor pool to do so. We also run many workshops or events that are in some way linked to these projects and youth empowerment in Auroville. We have mostly attracted a bioregional, volunteer, newcomer crowd as those are usually the young people who seem to need this platform the most.

Wishing you all well, Ankita, Michael and Kavitha on behalf of the YouthLink team (Ankita, Arul, Kavitha, Michael, Pierre, Sudipta, Tenzin, Tushita, Quentin)

FACTS & FIGURES- August 2020

In our last report published in the month of July we presented the figures for Auroville farm produce received by Foodlink from different farms. Now again we are coming back to you with the distribution details for the same items.

On the one hand, Foodlink manages the receipt of goods from farms, and on the other takes responsibility for distributing these to the different locations/needs/outlets in the Auroville community. In fact, one of the main objectives of Foodlink is to distribute the farm products among our community members. At present, Foodlink distributes to PTDC, PTPS & HERS, who further distribute to individual community members. Foodlink also distributes to the eateries like Solar Kitchen, VC Cafeteria and Sadhana Forest and serves individuals directly through their market.

We are very conscious about our role in the building of our city, and so we are always working on our functioning, strategies, infrastructure and human resources. In this report, we aim to bring awareness regarding the present consumption patterns in the community within the Auroville food economy. Each player connected in this unique circle of our economy, whether they are community eateries, retail outlets or individuals, has its own way of service to the community. Their consumption patterns cannot be compared.

Below are the highlights of Foodlink’s distribution:

FRUIT

- The majority of fruit distribution is to our retail outlets.
- PTDC (with 50% of Auroville residents as members) consumes more than 80% of the total fruit received by Foodlink. With an increase of 23% in total production of fruit compared to last year (April-June’19), PTDC has supported us by consuming more fruit. There was also a marginal increase in distribution to other retail outlets.

VEGETABLES

- Solar Kitchen generally takes around 50% and PTDC 35% of vegetable received by Foodlink from AV farms. Due to the current pandemic, our eateries were unable to use such a large amount of vegetables. There was an option to shift in-kind to PTDC and as a result there was an almost 200% increase in distribution of vegetables to PTDC compared to last year (April-June’20). Solar Kitchen and the Cafeteria used fewer vegetables, and thus Foodlink’s distribution of vegetables to these places was lower.

EGGS

- The above trend continued in the case of eggs, as our main eateries consumed no eggs during April-June’20. That was a massive challenge for all of us to find places where we could distribute our supply. As we have explained in another article the cost of production and prices compared to outside eggs is higher because of our values and quality added to produce organic eggs.

DRY GOODS

- The supply of rice to Solar Kitchen has reduced by up to 50%. Under this category we cover brown rice, red rice, boiled rice and raw rice. We were able to manage to cover this shortfall by taking online orders from individuals and providing home delivery.

DAIRY

- Overall, there was an increased consumption of milk and dairy products during this period, maybe because of the lockdown. The supply of milk to Foodlink increased by 61% compared to last year (April-June). During April-June’20, Foodlink received an average of 100 ltr of milk/day. To balance the demand and supply we started delivering milk to individuals from mid March. During April-June’20 Foodlink distributed an average of 60-70 ltr of fresh milk per day. Since the lockdown has been relaxed consumption has reduced. In the month of July’20, we distributed an average of 45 ltr fresh milk per day. Foodlink has also distributed Pasteurized milk to the leading outlets.

IMPORTANT REFLECTIONS:

1. There are 23 farms in Auroville. These farms produce vegetables, fruits, milk, and various kinds of rice, pulses and millets for the Auroville community.

2. The figures stated in this report are based on the food that is supplied to Foodlink and distributed through Foodlink.

3. We don’t know how much our community is spending on food coming from outside Auroville, or the volume and types of this food that is being consumed. We don’t know how much of that food could potentially be produced in Auroville if community members were willing to use these from inorganic to organic food. Auroville farms, with the right financial and other support, have the potential to produce more.

4. The monthly budget for farms is less than 4% of our total City Services payments. In case the City Services allocation to the farms and Foodlink increases, it will help to boost investments in the farms. This will enable the growth that farms have been lacking as they have not had sufficient financial inputs to capitalize increased production. Farms will produce more of the community’s food requirements and enable a new kind of economy to emerge. This will create a self-reliant, ecological and sustainable in kind economy through the food sector. This will also create and boost collective planning, understanding and integration of our community food needs. As a next step, Foodlink is planning to connect with consumers, farmers and other groups in order to understand the needs of the Auroville food system.

5. Will you help? You can:
   a. Use as much Auroville grown food as possible.
   b. Help to grow food (contact the Farm Group) and help in Auroville farms
   c. Become part of a long term coordinated team which will understand, plan and integrate the Auroville food system.
   d. Order dry goods (rice, varagu) click here: Link
   e. To order milk, curd, or paneer, send an email to foodlink@auroville.org.in

Marc’s Cafe Store Update

Our new timings (till next notice): Mon - Sat, 8 AM - 6 PM

Notice that we have started “back to basic” lunches that include a variety of: brown rice dosas from Annapurna Farm, with pesto made w/ basil from Buddha Garden, or simply with chutneys. We source our eggs & some seasonal fruits and vegetables from AuroVeg, our way to switch from inorganic to organic food. We also offer a Paleo salad with plenty of roasted nuts, chicken spinach and edible weeds.

Thanks to everyone for following the preventive Covid-19 measures. A special thanks to Nina Sengupta for her Edible Weeds book that inspired us so much, Krishna from Solitude for his support and advice, Raman and Gerard from AuroOrchard for their patience, and to all the Auroville farmers that work so hard to supply all of us with all these organic goodies.

Green Matters

COVID news from Greenpeace

Greenpeace has been lending support to farmers and daily-wage workers during lockdown, as they report in their newsletter which we edited for you below:

Food sovereignty: COVID-19 has led to food scarcity for millions of people. The UN warned of disruption of food supplies and further loss of incomes and livelihoods - affecting over 1.6 billion workers in the formal economy alone. Food banks and community organizations are doing their best to help, but as the pandemic collides with inequality and climate emergency, it’s clear we need major changes in our approach to food and agriculture.

Farmers all over the world are effectively using ecological agriculture to build resilience to cope with climate change. The food system was broken long before coronavirus came along. The current crisis has exposed the fault-lines and renewed urgency to tackle root causes. This means asking hard questions: how is it that 30% of food is wasted globally and unhealthy food is fueling obesity and diabetes, while 820 million people don’t have enough to eat? Why are millions being “forced to choose between hunger or COVID-19”?

The industrial and commodity-based food system has failed to adequately feed us. This isn’t due to a lack of food but due to extreme inequality, and the wrong type of food being produced, traded and promoted by powerful corporations.

Changing our food system - An alternative vision is gaining momentum – of a more collaborative, socially just and ecological food system, based on community participation. As public money goes into economic recovery packages, some governments and organizations are pushing for systemic changes, so that communities can build back with greater resilience, better able to cope with future shocks. Food justice means “communities exercise their right to grow, sell, and eat healthy food” and acknowledges differences such as class, ethnicity, and gender. In some places, this transition has already begun.

Our right to food - Access to food and fair treatment of workers are human rights. Combined with respect for ecological boundaries these are the key ingredients for food sovereignty.

We all –local and national governments, international agencies and cities– must shift towards a sustainable food system that can support us during the COVID crisis and beyond. Some of the changes required:

1. Food is a common good. For example, Victoria, Canada has assigned parks staff to start growing food for residents. Let’s encourage city networks, like Milan Urban Food Policy Pact, CityFood and C40, to ensure access to nutritious food for all (pour tous!).

2. Food justice. Food insecurity is linked to inequality, not lack of production. It’s a question of justice. To ensure the right to healthy food for all, we need to adopt social measures like universal basic needs support (UBI or UBS) and redistribute wealth through progressive taxation.

3. Essential workers are valued & compensated. To cope with current & future shocks, we need to value all in the food industry as essential workers. People growing, processing, distributing food should receive a decent income proportionate to their vital functions. Taxes, subsidies, & procurement policies must be redirected to achieve these goals.

4. We use our power to accelerate change. In addition to holding governments to account, the changes we make at household level can shift how society values food and those producing food for the better. Here are practical actions we can take now as individual citizens for better food:
   - Reduce food waste and shift our diet towards more local ecological, in season, and mainly plant-based food.
   - Use raw and fresh ingredients rather than packaging-heavy, highly-processed pre-made food.
   - Get our hands dirty and appreciate how difficult, but also rewarding, it is to grow food.
   - Connect directly with local farmers and share with them the risks and rewards of growing food -through community supported agriculture.

Let’s not let this moment pass without planting the seed for a better food future for all. We all can join the food sovereignty wave!

Hiroshima 75

The flash was short: one moment, like a bolt of lightning

Huge thunder crashed down and is echoing loudly still

As if it exploded today: all time is warped dumb

The Bomb melted homes, hearts, cars, streets:
burned moist flesh to dust

The rockets’ red glare, the bombs bursting in air, gave proof

To all who had ears to hear that The End is quite near

Arms debated details: how best to end it all

Are they ready yet? Good to go? Cue the machines! NOW!

Shall we destroy all? Or will we learn, and live longer?

Three quarters of a century we have been planning

But what will the final Unity of Man look like?

The bombs are built, loaded, ready to send out flying

Love!

Re: Selecting new members for L’avenir d’Auroville/TDC Interface Team

I understand that we are again rushing into selecting members for the new L’avenir/TDC Interface team without fully understanding the core issues, the covid-19 ‘situation’ without addressing the relevance to the work, the GB directive, the relevant standing order and the existential polarities in this conversation/domain. It is crucial that before any “selection” happens, the community (whoever is interested) has a chance to chime in and express their viewpoints.

The primary role of the interface team, according to their current mandate, is to appoint the technical teams, take the recommendations from them and make decisions, on one side, and then coordinate with the community with regular information updates and interaction, on the other. THIS IS WHERE A LOT OF THOSE EXISTENTIAL POLARITIES, WHICH ARE UNADDRESSED, PLAY A HUGE PART.

I am not going to put any negativity or pressure on the few people who have been carrying this massive responsibility on our behalf. Since quite some time and currently, the setup in l’avenir d’Auroville / TDC is not functioning with any level of clarity and a clear understanding of the roles and scope of work. There are 2 remaining members in the interface team, who have been co-ordinating the ‘work’ with an extensive technical team and administrative team (comprised of Aurovilians, volunteers and paid staff). The work requires a competent hybrid team, covering the different perspectives of visioning, planning, communicating with the community, and setting development priorities, keeping in mind the different sectors like city, forest, farm, industry etc.

But these tasks become exponentially more challenging for any new P&D team as there is no alignment of vision, mission, workplan, roles and responsibilities in the different areas of engagement. This is one of the main reasons why any team put in place for L’avenir d’Auroville gets into a big tangle in the first couple of months, resulting in the resignation of team members. We still have not addressed/updated the polarities that exist in the conversation. There have always been the ‘Galaxy’ supporters, the people who feel that the ‘Master Plan’ definitely does not represent or reflect the Galaxy model, others who believe in organic, participatory planning methods and another portion of our community who are completely disconnected from this topic, as long as their individual requirements are met.

Now in 2020, can we at least have a clear process to look into where we are at with this whole conversation, regardless of how polarized it is, in order to lay a good foundation for current and coming generations to stand on and refer to? I am also aware we are in the middle of extraordinary circumstances where we can’t gather/meet in person as a collective. It pushes for alternative/creative methods to be explored to “dialogue and decide” as a community (again, addressing the who are willing to commit to the process, not just complain about it). The time has come to shift from the attitude of maintaining the status quo to actually coming up with clear, directional modalities, keeping in mind critical stages of population growth (5000, 10000…)

The main issue for me is that everything we ‘see’ is basically just a smokescreen, while the real decisions get made behind the scenes. L’avenier’s role is primarily as place-holder, although it does also play the role of absorbing most of the negativity from the community while it tries to address its legal responsibilities (e.g. continuing to lay roads which have been mandated in the Master Plan etc.)

I am addressing all those concerned about/connected to this topic. Before we rush into putting people into this ‘group’ (I fully understand that there are vacancies to be filled and we need to ‘keep the ball rolling’), let’s please start a series of clear and conscious discussions, related to these different aspects with our community/collective, and see what emerges. I am more and more certain that “competent” people will not join the L’avenier d’Auroville/TDC team without addressing the “elephants in our community” related to this topic. We are in a pivotal transitional phase on so many levels, and the specific topic of L’avenir d’Auroville needs to be addressed clearly NOW. For me band-aid fixes are not the need of the hour, especially in this transitional phase. This time is really a golden opportunity to shift something powerfully. This is why I would request the AVC, WC & RAS to consider, brainstorm and organize accordingly.

The alignment of a common vision, the Governing Board/Foundation’s role, the NDTA, special status with the town and country planning act and other possibilities of land protection, the impact of giving a legal statutory recognition to the existing Master Plan, the dangerous implications of the district authorities including Auroville in their regional plans without recognizing the RA/GB approved Auroville Master Plan, land use plans (forest, farm, industrial, international zones, etc), TOR (needs to be worked on and ratified), DDPS, financial support system required to run and manage a fully functional L’Avenir d’Auroville, will be some of the topics to be addressed in these series of General Meetings. (If it’s not possible in person, then at least virtual GMs). Another possibility is to organize a workshop (efficiently facilitated) and make an open invitation to which the people who are interested in/connected to this topic would respond, (hopefully). Ideally during this workshop, all these different issues are addressed and consolidated clearly and then a selection could follow and the wider community is kept informed. When I suggest this option, I am also aware that we are not “allowed” to gather in substantial numbers, but we have to find a way. Other options are also welcome. I am positive, more people would consent to serve in L’Avenir d’Auroville and the TDC if these issues are addressed clearly.

I also understand that because the budget for L’Avenir d’Auroville has been reduced/cut, it is now dependent on BCC to financially support the entire setup and its functioning. And I also understand that because the budget for L’avenir d’Auroville has been reduced/cut, it is now dependent on BCC to financially support the entire setup and its functioning. And that in the face of the financial impact of the Covid 19 ‘pandemic’. This creates an additional strain on the collective funds and also discourages people to join L’avenir. All this creates a unique situation where we will be only able to ‘afford’ only a small set up, with a limited budget.

I am fully aware that all these ‘tremors’ are part of the churning phase, but I still feel that if we are sincere in our individual and collective push, the ‘Grace’ will support.

From Discipline Community

We hereby express a correction to what the Auroville Council report stated concerning the Discipline Farm issue, as published in the New and Notes 08.08.20 edition. Our experience was:
The basis of the conflict started at the beginning of 2018 on the return of the ex-steward, who had been on a two-year hiatus. The long-term farm team, mostly residents, who had successfully developed the farm further were not welcomed to participate anymore. After a year the ex-steward left again and since then the Discipline community is resisting parties who have no understanding of this place, with unreliable and unrealistic interests. We urge the Auroville Council to rectify their post. If anyone wishes further information, please contact the residents at: discipline@auroville.org.in

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

A Boost for Analog Photography

A new darkroom attached to Centre d’Art, Citadines was inaugurated on Friday 8th August. The darkroom is to be used for the processing of film and for printing of analogue photographs. It is primarily funded by Centre d’Art, which was founded by Dominic Darr, herself an analogue photographer, who spent a large chunk of her life in Auroville documenting the development and evolution of the city, especially the construction of the Matrimandir. Hence this darkroom is also to help preserve her legacy and also that of Giorgio Molinari, who also spent an inordinate amount of time documenting the important happenings in Auroville, initially through analogue and later and through digital photography. He, along with several other Aurovilians, were instrumental in donating a lot of equipment and chemicals for this darkroom.

Analog photography is fading fast due to the advent of digital cameras and mobile phone cameras. However, any photographer who has done any analogue photography will attest to the importance and beauty of this process. There is a whole generation born during the digital era that are discovering this form of image-making and are fascinated and curious to learn more. For them this darkroom will hopefully kindle interest in this wondrous process and help create a solid foundation in this medium.

Thanks to the Centre d’Art team for holding onto and prolonging yet another medium from disappearing from the face of this earth.
